

Persuasive Outline

Introduction

- I. (Attention Getter)
- II. (Reason to Listen)
- III. (Speaker Credibility)
- IV. (Preview)
 1. First, I will discuss problem
 2. Second, I will cover solution
 3. Third, I will talk about consequence

(Transition) Let's begin to see the magnitude of the problem

Body

I. (Significance) In this point, discuss only the major problems of your topic. Answer the questions: What's the big deal? Who cares? Restate 1st problem as stated in proposition

- A. Sub-point- Claims are general setting up what you want to prove in the evidence
 1. Support detail- show evidence
 2. Support detail- show evidence
- B. Sub-point- Claims are general setting up what you want to prove in the evidence
 1. Support detail- show evidence
 2. Support detail- show evidence

(Transition) Let's us explore what we can to do make it better.

II. (Inherency) In this point, discuss what has been done so far to address solve this problem .

- A. Sub-point- Claims are general setting up what you want to prove in the evidence
 1. Support detail- show evidence
 2. Support detail- show evidence
- B. Sub-point- Claims are general setting up what you want to prove in the evidence.
 1. Support detail- show evidence
 2. Support detail- show evidence

(Transition) Let's us explore the consequence for the future.

III. (Solvency) In this point, first discuss the best possible outcomes if we solve the problems Then discuss the worst outcome if we fail to follow the solution.

- A. Sub-point- Best potential outcome as a claim
 1. Support detail- show evidence
 2. Support detail- show evidence
- B. Sub-point- Worst potential outcome if we fail. Claims are general setting up what you want to prove in the evidence.
 1. Support detail- show evidence
 2. Support detail- show evidence

Conclusion - ACTION

- I. (Review) the proposition
 - A. First, I discussed problem
 - B. Second, I covered solution
 - C. Third, I talked about consequences
- II. (Reason to Remember) – restate the specific persuasive goal
- III. Action steps you want audience to follow
 - 1.
 - 2.
 - 3.
- IV. (Tie Back) Restate attention getter

Work Cited pages follow on a separate page as done in the previous outlines.